VA Questions And Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following are representative questions answered daily by VA counselors. Full information is available at any VA office.

Q - If I request VA educational and vocational counseling, will I be in group or private sessions?

A - Group methods may be utilized to accomplish certain phases of the counseling. Generally, group sessions are supplemented by individual counseling.

Q - My husband, who still has his World War II GI insurance in force, has his mother designated as his beneficiary. We have been married for the past 25 years. Is there any way I can get this changed?

A - No. Only the insured veteran may change his beneficiary.

Q - Is an election for non-service connected benefits under the "improved pension" program binding?

A - If an election is made which does not result in a greater benefit to the beneficiary the Veterans Administration will not accept the election. The beneficiary will continue to receive benefits under the pension program providing the greater benefit. However, once a valid and accepted election is made, there is no return to the original program after the first check under the new program is cashed.

Removal of Spots And Stains

K. Lonnette Marsh
Extension Agent

How do you remove spots and stains from your clothing? Do you try to remove the stain or do you allow the stain to penetrate and leave the task for your dry cleaner? (If clothing is sent to the dry cleaner, spots and stains should be located and marked with a note identifying the stain. Knowing the source of the stain is helpful in its removal.)

You can reduce your dry cleaning bill and keep your clothing free of spots and stains with prompt and proper treatment of stained.

It is a good idea to keep a spot and stain removal box or kit in your laundry area. Easily locate removal items and you will be more apt to use them. Keep items such as carbon tetrachloride, oxalic acie, soapless shampoo, perborate bleach, sponge, soft cloths and blotter pieces.

Suggestions for removal of common stains:

Body Oils And Dirt - on collars and cuffs, rub with soapless shampoo concentrate and then launder.

Blood - Soak in cold water, then wash in warm soapy water.

Fats - As mayonnaise, salad dressing, butter or oils, remove with carbon tetrachloride or other non-flammable cleaning fluids.

Dark Grease or Road Tar - Rub with non-colored cooking fat. Remove the fat as above; then wash with warm soapy water.

Ink - Sponge up immediately before it has an opportunity to penetrate the fibers and wash with cool water. Soapless shampoo has been found effective in removing ballpoint ink.

Chewing Gum - Harden with ice to remove as much as possible. Then use a cleanng solvent.

Fruit Stains - Remove by pouring very hot water through the stains.

Lipstick - Rub with soap and wash with very hot water.

Rust - Soak in oxalic acid solution if large rust stains. Small ones can be removed with lemon juice.

Remember:

1. Be sure the fabric will not be damaged by the treatment suggested for the stain.

2. Spot or stain removal is most effective when done immediately. Stains which have to penetrate the fibers or dry may become permanent.

Bowman Speaks to Oakville Ruritan Club

Wayne Bowman, Appomattox County Forester, spoke at the monthly meeting of the Oakville Ruritan Club on April 5, 1979. He also showed a film which explained forest management practices in Virginia.

Mr. Bowman discussed the forestry program in Appomattox County. The primary objective is to reforest cutover land with loblolly pine. He also pointed out the importance and demand for hardwood timber and pulpwood. As always, fire prevention and suppression is very important.

The Virginia Division of Forestry office has recently moved to a new location on Main Street in the town of Appomattox.

Mrs. Garrett Mental Health Chairperson For Evergreen

Mrs. Shirley Garrett of Evergreen has been named Bellringer Chairperson for the drive benefiting the Mental Health Association in Virginia (MHAV), in the Evergreen Community. Bellringer workers will go house-to-house during the month of May collecting for the Mental Health Association.

As a citizens' volunteer agency, MHAV works on behalf of the mentally and emotionally disturbed and works to promote mental health. The Association is not a state agency and exists entirely on private contributions, such as funds collected in the Bellringer drive.

The need is great; 32 million families are affected by a mental illness of someone in their immediate family. An estimated 11% of all children suffer from some form of mental illness, and finally over 21 million Americans suffer from mild to moderate depression. An additional 2 million suffer from severe depression.

NO MORE ROAMING FOR THIS OLD 'TOM' - He was a big one, 23 pounds to be exact, with an eleven and one-half inch beard. Marshall Cunningham put an end to his roaming on Friday morning of last week when he killed the turkey in the Oakville area. Nice going, Marshall!

Bellringer workers assisting Mrs. Garrett in the Evergreen community are Mrs. Ann Phillips and Miss Rita Garrett.
